Les Chevaliers des Vins de France is pleased to present the first Stock Your Cellar Night hosted by Mr. Jean-Yves Defay, Consul General of France in Vancouver at his Residence.

This event promises to be a sellout, allowing participants to sample and purchase hard to find French wines while enjoying a sumptuous array of fine foods in the beautiful setting of the French Consulate Residence.

We've asked prominent wine agents to open up their portfolios and pour for Chevaliers some of their hard to find wines. Almost all of the wines being poured are not available in the LDB. Most are only available in small quantities. You simply don't get a chance to taste this many special order French wines at one time, much less the opportunity to order the wine as you taste.

Participants will be given order forms at the start of the event and can place orders for any of the wines being poured.

Mark May 30 on the calendar and prepare to stock your cellar. Consider the advantages of this tasting:

- Taste and order wine in a relaxed atmosphere with friends and colleagues. Leisurely taste wines in a reception atmosphere while enjoying great food, friendly surroundings and great conversation. Compare your tasting notes with fellow French wine lovers.
- Get the inside scoop. Speak with Agents directly about the wines, the winemakers, and the region. These are the people who sought out these wines and made the efforts to bring them into BC. You can speak directly to them and learn why they are so passionate about these wines.

- Buy in small lots. Chevaliers have arranged the ordering process so that these wines can be ordered in quantities as little as 3 bottles (comparatively, special ordering this wine would require the purchase of an entire case). This means your wine buying budget can be spread between many different wines.
- Guaranteed LDB retail prices: Prices have been set at the suggested LDB retail price (if these wines were available in the LDB, this is the price that you would pay).

We will very shortly be posting a list of the wines being poured and will begin taking reservations for the event. Respond quickly as space is limited we expect there will be great interest from French wine lovers
