

STOCK YOUR CELLAR EVENT 2007

Residence of the Consul Général of France

7150 Selkirk St @ 54th, Vancouver

Wednesday, 24th October 2007 at 6:30pm

The Committee of Les Chevaliers des Vins de France is pleased to once again present our Stock Your Cellar Night at the residence of the Consul Général of France. The evening will be hosted by M. & Mme. Sérot Alméras.

This event promises to be a sell-out, allowing participants to sample and purchase hard to find French wines while enjoying an array of fine foods in the beautiful setting of the French Consulate Residence.

We've asked several prominent wine agents – including Select Wine Merchants, Authentic Wine & Spirit Merchants, Peacock & Martin & The Seacove Group - to open up their portfolios and pour for Chevaliers some of their hard to find wines. Almost all of the wines being poured are not available in the LDB. Most are only available in small quantities. You simply don't get a chance to taste this many special order French wines at one time, much less the opportunity to order the wine that you have tasted. Participants will be given order forms at the start of the event and can place orders for any of the wines being poured.

Mark October 24th on your calendar and prepare to stock your cellar. Consider the advantages of this tasting: Taste and order wine in a relaxed reception atmosphere while enjoying great food with friends and colleagues. Speak with Agents directly about the wines & the wine-makers. These are the people who sought out these wines and made the efforts to bring them into BC. You can speak directly to them and learn why they are so passionate about these wines.

Buy in small lots. Chevaliers have arranged the ordering process so that these wines can be ordered in quantities as little as 3 bottles (normally, special ordering this wine would require the purchase of an entire case). This means your wine buying budget can be spread between many different wines.

We will very shortly be posting a list of the wines being poured as soon as the agents have finalized their plans.

This event is also a membership drive and an ideal venue for new people to discover French wines and belong to a wine club that offers many opportunities to taste wines from all regions.

To this end, Les Chevaliers are inviting members to bring along a guest, who they consider would be a potential recruit. If the guest signs up for Les Chevaliers at the Residence, the membership will take effect immediately through until the end of 2008. The fee will only be $40, in effect giving the guest the members' rate for the event and permitting them to save further money by attending the 25th Anniversary Dinner on November 21st at the members' rate. As a special incentive, there will also be a draw towards the end of the evening for those members who bring a guest who joins Les Chevaliers at the Residence and draw for those guests who join on the evening. We also invite any lapsed members to renew their membership for 2008 and also attend these last two events of 2007 subject to the usual space limitations as a bonus.
